COLLEGE OF LAW SCHOLARSHIPS

The Office of Admissions handles the awarding of scholarships to incoming first year law students. These awards are disbursed in the fall and spring semesters. They are not disbursed in summer terms. Please refer to your admissions award letter for a breakdown of how and when your scholarship will be disbursed.

Additional scholarship opportunities are available throughout the academic year and are announced by the Office of Student Advancement. Most scholarships disburse during the fall and spring semesters, with limited exceptions for summer disbursements. The Office of Student Advancement maintains a Canvas site that includes information about available internal and external scholarship and writing competition opportunities.

FEDERAL LOANS, INTEREST RATES AND FEES/BORROWING LIMITS

Law students may be eligible to receive Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans and/or Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loans. Please view HERE for more information on eligibility requirements and the general process of applying for a loan.

For information on Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans and Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loans, and loan limits and interest rates, please visit the FSU Office of Financial Aid website.

BUDGET WORKSHEETS

We encourage you to use the Budget Worksheets to get a more accurate assessment of your specific costs, depending on your anticipated enrollment, residency, and other factors that may impact your cost.

LOAN COUNSELING RESOURCES

Florida State University's main campus Financial Aid Office offers personalized assistance for both entrance and exit loan counseling, helping students understand their loan requirements. For incoming law students, the office provides guidance on loan options, borrowing limits, and the FAFSA process. For those nearing graduation, exit loan counseling is provided to ensure students are fully aware of their repayment responsibilities, timelines, and available federal repayment programs.

ACCESSLEX INSTITUTE

The Florida State University College of Law has established a valuable partnership with AccessLex, a leading organization dedicated to improving financial literacy among law students.

Beginning in the 1L year, we offer comprehensive debt counseling designed to help students understand the complexities of student loans, budgeting, and financial planning. The support continues to their 2L year with optional workshops on various topics such as "Five Habits for Financially Successful Lawyers" or "Student Loan Repayment Strategies for Legal Careers." This past Spring, 3L students attended a mandatory session on "Money and Your Career: Legal Salaries, Taxes, and Benefits," which offers in-depth insights into the financial realities they will face as new lawyers. Additionally, 3Ls are given the opportunity to participate in optional one-on-one financial coaching, allowing for personalized advice tailored to their specific needs and goals.

MAX by AccessLex

The College of Law partners with AccessLex Institute, a non-profit organization committed to helping students find their path from aspiring lawyer to fulfilled professional, through a series of free financial educational programs. It's award-winning MAX program provides quick and easy lessons, one on one financial coaching, and nearly $400,000 in scholarship incentives each year.

A sampling of the free AccessLex programs available for current law students, including its Law School Scholarship Databank is available HERE.

FSU UNCONQUERED BY DEBT: A FINANCIAL WELLNESS PROGRAM

The goals of the program are to enhance financial literacy and transform decision making so that students become wealth creators. The program promotes balanced financial choices so that students fully understand they are responsible for their current and future lifestyles. The focus is on key life choices: career options, earning, spending, saving, investing, managing credit, evaluating risk, insuring assets, and planning for retirement. The Center seeks to build relationships around campus to promote and implement the program.

For more information on their offerings, please visit their website HERE.
