clients get out of some of the most difficult situations of their lives. Being able to help because I believe that all people have fundamental rights guaranteed universally and
"Before working on the North Florida Lynching Project, I only knew about the dark Kenneth Young is a testament to the resiliency of the human spirit. The opportunity videos on trafficking issues in the cocoa and fishing industries, speak at CLE events Their stories must be heard in order to begin change. ASB helped further me in my "My experience in the Immigration Clinic was incredible. I had the opportunity to children in the Tallahassee community was one of the most rewarding experiences This year, CAC celebrated many client victories. CAC students advocated for and rare-language speakers, they were not able to communicate with others. Now, immigration status, come out of the economic shadows and assert their rights to immigration status, FSU's Farmworker & Immigration Rights Clinic (FIRC) is growing under the direction building to reflect the values and ethics of the FSU Law community rather than the Students spoke candidly about the desire for the name of the main classroom B.K. Roberts on the building directly impacted their experience at the College of Law.
Promoting racial and social justice at the College of Law, Public Interest Law Center Ernest Ponder. The memorial dedication occurred on July 17, 2021. The plaque is School District on lynching and supported the placement of a memorial plaque Remembrance Project lyncing in North Florida. Through partnership with the

"- 2L Olivia Ingram
- 3L Cameron Polomski
- 3L Max Dietz

- Graham v. Florida
- Taught at anti-trafficking trainings and produced an
- Developed
- Interviewed with
- Published an opinion piece
- Banned the sale of slave labor goods
- Drafted a petition to enforce U.S.-Mexico-

"- 15-to-Life
- Without parole
- Returns home
- Other exciting updates

"- Advocacy in Action: 12 years later, juvenile sentenced to life
- Necessity forced us to be
- Helped our communities! Our doors were open. Necessity forced us to be
- Creative in our litigation, in our community outreach, and in our community
- Have had while at the College of Law."