Faculty Profile: Steve R. Johnson

Steve R. Johnson is a professor of law at Florida State University College of Law. He holds a J.D. from New York University School of Law and a B.A. from St. Francis College. Johnson has taught and conducted research at the local, state and federal levels, and to observe negotiations. Last year, he was drafted as an associate editor of the Administrative Law Review and Administrative Law & Economics Review, and he has contributed articles and book chapters on tax procedure and tax law. He has been a columnist for the Tax Procedure column in the American Taxation Association's Tax Procedure and Administrative Law. His publications include two casebooks, Business Planning, International Tax, Corporate Taxation, and International Taxation.

Student Profile: Lillian Sharpe

Sharpe serves as a member of the Law Student Council (LSC) and on the National Moot Court Planning Committee, which interviews and forwards candidates for ABA Law Student Division in August 2017. Currently, Sharpe is the national co-president of the ABA National Student Environmental Law Student Organization (NSELSO). Sharpe was recognized as the nation's top SBA chapter by the American Bar Association's Student Bar Association (SBA) and as vice chair of the Student Bar Association (SBA) and as vice chair of the Student Bar Association (SBA). Sharpe externed at the National College of Environmental Law in Washington, D.C., and at the Florida Coastal School of Law in Tampa.

Student Program Application Due March 30

The Career Services and Professional Development Office is hosting a Spring Career Fair on March 30. The fair will feature employers from a variety of industries, including corporate, government, non-profit, and law firms. Students are encouraged to attend and network with potential employers, as well as to explore different career paths and industries. The fair will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the University Center. For more information, please contact the Career Services and Professional Development Office at 850-644-3743.