Student Profile: Zachary Frye-Lofley (12)

Field of Law Sought: Real estate, business, or as any lawyer standing around the office water cooler discussing the law, government and politics.

Expected Graduation: May 2020

Student Profile: 3L Zachary Frye-Lofley

I was five years old. I will give my all wherever I end up working, to better myself, my employer and most importantly, my client.”

I found my passion for the legal profession and learned what being an attorney is all about firsthand from my dad, an attorney. He showed me how lawyers work, the side of the law I had no idea what the profession was all about. I had no idea what lawyers did and what being a lawyer would be like. I never could have imagined or dreamed of what I’ve been able to do for my clients, for my profession and for my family as a result of my education and the leadership roles within the profession I’ve been fortunate to hold. It’s an honor to realize that I have served as a real estate/property attorney for law firms, insurance companies and a real estate developer. As a lawyer, I have settled or disposed of more than 100 cases in both state and federal courts, with a success rate of 95%.

Field of Law Sought: Real estate, business, First, to engage students on a collaborative level on the legal issues the students believe are important to them. Second, to encourage students to be critical thinkers and to think deeply about the issues at hand. Third, to help students develop the skills needed to write and speak persuasively.

Alum Profile: Vivian Cortes Hodz ('02)

Vivian Cortes Hodz is a partner at Cortes Hodz Family Law during her entire 17-year career, Vivian has concentrated on assisting individuals with marital and family law conflicts. She also is a Florida Supreme Court certified family law mediator and has extensive experience as a mediator and a lawyer.

Desired Practice Location: South Florida

Vivian Cortes Hodz

Spouse: Melissa Lofley

Field: Business Law

If you unsubscribe from the FSU Law Focus, you will only be unsubscribed from the newsletter and not other emails from FSU Law.

See more student profiles online.

Faculty Profile: Joseph W. Jacquot

Joseph W. Jacquot is an adjunct professor teaching Constitutional Law this semester. Jacquot teaches both Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida. Jacquot teaches both Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida. Jacquot teaches Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida. Jacquot teaches Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida.

Field of Law Sought: Real estate, business, or as any lawyer standing around the office water cooler discussing the law, government and politics.

Expected Graduation: May 2020

Student Profile: 3L Zachary Frye-Lofley

I was five years old. I will give my all wherever I end up working, to better myself, my employer and most importantly, my client.”

I found my passion for the legal profession and learned what being an attorney is all about firsthand from my dad, an attorney. He showed me how lawyers work, the side of the law I had no idea what the profession was all about. I had no idea what lawyers did and what being a lawyer would be like. I never could have imagined or dreamed of what I’ve been able to do for my clients, for my profession and for my family as a result of my education and the leadership roles within the profession I’ve been fortunate to hold. It’s an honor to realize that I have served as a real estate/property attorney for law firms, insurance companies and a real estate developer. As a lawyer, I have settled or disposed of more than 100 cases in both state and federal courts, with a success rate of 95%.

Field of Law Sought: Real estate, business, First, to engage students on a collaborative level on the legal issues the students believe are important to them. Second, to encourage students to be critical thinkers and to think deeply about the issues at hand. Third, to help students develop the skills needed to write and speak persuasively.

Alum Profile: Vivian Cortes Hodz ('02)

Vivian Cortes Hodz is a partner at Cortes Hodz Family Law during her entire 17-year career, Vivian has concentrated on assisting individuals with marital and family law conflicts. She also is a Florida Supreme Court certified family law mediator and has extensive experience as a mediator and a lawyer.

Desired Practice Location: South Florida

Vivian Cortes Hodz

Spouse: Melissa Lofley

Field: Business Law

If you unsubscribe from the FSU Law Focus, you will only be unsubscribed from the newsletter and not other emails from FSU Law.

See more student profiles online.

Faculty Profile: Joseph W. Jacquot

Joseph W. Jacquot is an adjunct professor teaching Constitutional Law this semester. Jacquot teaches both Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida. Jacquot teaches both Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida. Jacquot teaches Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida. Jacquot teaches Constitutional Law at the law school and at the University of Florida.

Field of Law Sought: Real estate, business, or as any lawyer standing around the office water cooler discussing the law, government and politics.

Expected Graduation: May 2020

Student Profile: 3L Zachary Frye-Lofley

I was five years old. I will give my all wherever I end up working, to better myself, my employer and most importantly, my client.”

I found my passion for the legal profession and learned what being an attorney is all about firsthand from my dad, an attorney. He showed me how lawyers work, the side of the law I had no idea what the profession was all about. I had no idea what lawyers did and what being a lawyer would be like. I never could have imagined or dreamed of what I’ve been able to do for my clients, for my profession and for my family as a result of my education and the leadership roles within the profession I’ve been fortunate to hold. It’s an honor to realize that I have served as a real estate/property attorney for law firms, insurance companies and a real estate developer. As a lawyer, I have settled or disposed of more than 100 cases in both state and federal courts, with a success rate of 95%.

Field of Law Sought: Real estate, business, First, to engage students on a collaborative level on the legal issues the students believe are important to them. Second, to encourage students to be critical thinkers and to think deeply about the issues at hand. Third, to help students develop the skills needed to write and speak persuasively.