“I am so thankful for my experiences at FSU Law. In these past three years, I have been fortunate to work with professors and peers who have made my time here extremely rewarding. I’ve traveled the world, moved my family more times than I can count, and been given opportunities beyond my wildest dreams. To receive such an education has been invaluable. I have learned so much about myself and my abilities which have allowed me to become self-reliant and confident in my decision making.”

We forecast that up to 600 prospective students will want to see us in person and provide feedback via a simple online form. Alumni generally provide valuable feedback on prospective students, which is weighed heavily in the admissions process. Additional alumni are needed to serve as interviewers in our on-campus interviews and the virtual interview and the resume review process.

From the Dean:

“My career as an Army judge advocate has been tough, diverse and extremely rewarding. I’ve traveled the world, moved my family more times than I can count, and been given opportunities beyond my wildest dreams. To receive such an education has been invaluable. I have learned so much about myself and my abilities which have allowed me to become self-reliant and confident in my decision making.”
