Professor Shi-Ling Hsu Publishes Book

Shi-Ling Hsu’s new book, Proposal to Save the Planet, has been published by University Press.

In Proposal to Save the Planet, Professor Hsu argues that capitalism is a form of economic governance, which is steered by political choices. If the planet is to be saved, she believes that it will require a different set of political choices. Hsu further argues that the transformative power of capitalism holds humankind’s best hope for saving the Earth from human-caused pollution and climate change. She believes that rescuing the planet from climate collapse will require harnessing the power of capitalism to steer it on a path to environmental repair. Hsu’s book, (Cambridge University Press 2021), will be published next year.
